

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Are you a graduate student studying Canada from a critical lens? Are you looking for a space to discuss your ideas with other emerging and established Canadianists? Do you want to engage in academic networking that can inspire you and take you in new directions?

The CanSearch project, based at York University, is inviting doctoral students interested in Canadian Studies, who are located both in Canada and abroad, to participate in the 2nd Critical Canadian Studies Summer School. The theme is Studying Canada Responsibly.

Eight doctoral students from outside of Canada and five doctoral students located in Toronto will be selected. They will have the opportunity to engage with the perspectives of various emerging and established Canadianists.

In-person summer school to be held at York University's Glendon campus in Toronto, 23-27 June 2025.

Apply HERE before 31 October 2024

*Participants will receive a confirmation of participation.
